Project

Field(s)	European Festival of Gentry's culture- July 2017
Description	This project gives an opportunity to expand and promote non-materialistic cultural heritage. It is targeted to various communities and age groups. This project involves ancestors of noble families and aristocracy. Project allows to get to know already forgotten values, elements of culture, good habits, gentry's etiquette, fashion, dances, customs also connected to time of year, patriotic and charity actions. Our goal is to remind, that aristocratic families brought development of culture and art and science in their countries. We are looking for partners to support the project. We want to divide the festival on four weeks. Partner from every country will organize a week of gentry's culture where shows, concerts, fashion fests, hunting, hunting's dog shows, competitions or dancing can take place. All this cultural events will transport from one partner to another. Results of this project can be inestimable. For the first time in twenty-first century we can go back to noble culture. International communication, social awareness, history, gathering information, also about successors, civil activity and cultural exchange has a big priority. Involved social media sites, internet pages, and participants will allow to propagate project worldwide. Worldwide attention is considered, because every country created their culture not only with folk, but also with higher social categories.
